Contemporary artist Trish Biddle , creator of the Glamorous Women in Fabulous Places line of paintings, will be her SURTEX® debut in May. Her ladies will be making their way onto the floors of the Javits Convention Center for the first time. SURTEX® is one of the top shows in the nation and participation allows exhibitors to meet attendees and discuss potential licensing opportunities they might otherwise not have. With thousands of attendees the possibilities are endless.

Trish was recently commissioned for the second consecutive time to create the official art for the 2010 Westminster Dog Show in New York City. She also was the official artist of the 2008 Kentucky Derby, where her art became the best-selling Kentucky Derby artist of all time. Trish has already demonstrated strong consumer appeal at retailers including Target, Bed Bath & Beyond, Michaels, T.J. Maxx, art.com, and Wal-Mart via Encore Art Group.

“Trish Biddle’s Glamorous Women in Fabulous Places paintings evoke the glamour of a bygone era that resonates with today’s consumers,” says Liz Conyngham, founding partner of Creative Properties. “Her Art-Deco sensibility has an escapist quality that appeals to consumers, particularly during these economic times.”

Biddle's artwork line, Glamorous Women in Fabulous Places, is positioned in licensing to target women interested in fashion, travel and luxury. Biddle is seeking deals in categories such as gifts and collectibles, social expressions, stationery, art and design, home goods, apparel and accessories.
